

what are the goals of a criminal justice system?

humans declare
debate
morality produces
constitutions

rights supersede
legality constrains
verdicts inform
jurors determine
evidence yields

sentences specify
confinement adjusts
punishment provides recidivism inspires

advocates employ
ethicallity needs
trials conduct
varies

* Wa (和) is a Japanese cultural concept usually translated into English as "harmony". It implies a peaceful unity and conformity within a social group, in which members prefer the continuation of a harmonious community over their personal interests.

nations govern
create sanction
embodiment beliefs decide to serve as

citizens disobey
make laws proscribe
safeguard
crime violates

fits?
punishment deters
justice dispenses

*social harmony?